Statistics of Postal Intercourse. The Free Delivery System.

The whole amount of revenue from United States letter postage, (according to the postal statistics for 1854,) was $6,255,506. The whole number of letters sent was 119,634,415, or an average of about five and one-sixth letters to each inhabitant.

The cities of New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Boston, New Orleans and Cincinnati—containing about one-sixteenth of the population of the Union, furnish more than one-fourth of the correspondence—the number of letters in these cities being 33,926,480. This shows how especially important a cheap, perfect and systematic postal arrangement is to the mercantile classes; and the benefit to them is indirectly reflected upon all other classes who are the consumers of goods. This is independent of the moral, social and intellectual benefits to the whole community arising from a cheap postage system—and when we consider all its benefits it seems singular that any man should object to its being fostered and sustained from the funds of the general treasury whenever there are deficiencies in the revenues of the Post Office.

There is hardly more propriety in saying that the Post office should be a self-sustaining institution than there would be in saying that the government itself should be a self-sustaining institution—for the former as well as the latter is for the benefit of the people—and more and more for the benefit of the whole people as its rates are made cheaper, and its facilities more general, convenient and certain. The postal laws and regulations should therefore be as liberal as possible, and construed rather for the benefit of the people than merely for the advantage of the department, as has generally been the case.

An application is to be made to the present Congress for a change in the postage law, so as to provide for the free delivery of letters in the larger cities and towns, at the residences or places of business of those to whom they are addressed. If this system were adopted, even if confined only to the larger cities the increase of correspondence would be exceedingly large—especially, if as in Great Britain, the system should include the systematic and frequent carriage of letters between different parts of the same cities. Under such a system it is stated in the official reports that the correspondence through the English post offices has increased within fifteen years from $2,000,000 of letters to $43,000,000.

A meeting of Boston merchants was held recently, and an expression given in favor of reducing the letter postage to a uniform rate of two cents, including the free distribution in cities—also in favor of the money order system, which works so admirably in England.

Sooner or later these systems must be adopted in this country—for Americans are not in the habit of long denying themselves conveniences and benefits which they see their neighbors enjoying.

A Forest Tragedy, and other Tales. By Grace Greenwood. Boston: Ticknor & Fields. 1856.

Of all our American female writers, none have more strongly touched the popular heart of the literary world than Grace Greenwood. Possessed of rare genius and brilliancy as a writer, she has also stirred the depths of human feeling, and imbued her works with the purest and most elevated moral sentiment. Her tales and sketches not only delight the reader,—they purify the heart and elevate the affections.

The principal tale in the volume before us is an Indian tragedy, worked up with much power and pathos. The scene is principally connected with our revolutionary war, and is laid among the tribes of Western New York. One of the main characters is Maurice De Vandreuil, a young French officer, who came over with Lafayette to aid our fathers in their struggle for independence. Oneta was the daughter of an Oneida chief, who insisted upon leaving her as a boat-wife with the Americans, in proof of the faithfulness of his tribe to our cause, which all the remainder of the Six Nations had abandoned. Oneta is soon loved and secretly married by De Vandreuil, and is slain in his absence, by her own sister, under the supposition that she had been dishonored; and the sister plunges the knife into her own bosom upon discovering that her suspicions were unfounded. The story is tragical indeed, and is told in a touching style. Aside from its dramatic interest, there is much of historical value in it.

The other tales in the volume are "The Minister's Choice," "St. Pierre the Soldier," Alice's Tryst," and "The Child-Seer."

The book is issued in the usual handsome style of these publishers.

The Bush Boys. By Captain Mayne Reid.—Boston: Ticknor & Fields. 1856.

This is a beautifully printed and illustrated volume, and exceedingly attractive to both young and old. It is in the history and adventures of a Cape farmer and his family, in the wild Karroos of Southern Africa, by the same author who has given us the very popular tales for young people, entitled "The Boy Hunters," "The Young Voyageurs," "Forest Exiles," &c. It is written in a charming narrative style of travel and adventure, very fascinating to the young, and not less interesting to readers of a mature age. The stories of hunting the elephant, the rhinoceros, and the lion—of the immense and destructive flights of locusts,—of the hyenas, the quaggas and the serpents—and the various adventures of the farmer's family among them—are all told with spirit and effect, and illustrated by fine engravings.

[For the Daily Whig and Courier.] Gov. Wells on Slavery.

In his address, Gov. Wells declares that "a class of persons have labored assiduously for a quarter of a century, to excite the feelings and prejudices of the people against the South and its institutions," and that they "have organized political parties, with the avowed purpose, generally, of acquiring power to ameliorate their (the slaves) condition, but without any distinct, or well defined object or course of action of a practical character."

This is but a reiteration of the story that has been issuing from the press of the slavery fanatics for the last six months. It is part of a settled design to deceive the people. They know that if the people are permitted to understand the principles of the Republican party, that an overwhelming majority of them will rally under its banner. Hence the attempts of their President, their Governor, and their presses to misrepresent our principles, and to falsify history. They tell the people that we are "disunionists," that we "repudiate the Constitution," that we are "encroaching on the South," and that our object is to "excite hatred against the South" as a part of our great confederacy, and to abolish slavery in the States. By constant repetition of these charges in every variety of form, they hope to divert the people from the true issue. "No further abridgment of Slavery; and no further extension of Slavery."

This is all that the old Liberty party proposed, all that the Free Soil party proposed, and all that the Republican party now proposes. All these parties have distinctly denied the right of the Federal Government to interfere with slavery in the States. And the servile tools who now cringe and crawl and roll in the dirt at the feet of their Southern masters, before honesty and manhood had entirely forsaken them, avowed, to their fullest extent, the doctrines of the Republican party.

By their orators, by their party presses, by their political conventions, and by their Legislatures in every Northern State save one, both the Whig and Democratic parties have endorsed the identical principles on which the Republicans now stand in conscious rectitude and strength.

And now having spurned the very principles upon which they themselves so recently appealed to the people, and which they know are still dear to the hearts of freemen, they charge the men who adhere to those principles, with treasonable designs against the Union and the Constitution! But they know that their charges are false, and the intelligent voters of the country know it too. When President Pierce insulted the whole North by charging them with aggression on the South, he knew the charge was false.

When Gov. Wells made the charge which I have quoted from his address, he knew it was false. And the whole brood of the Pierce and Wells Nebraska press from the Washington Union down to the Bangor Journal, know that the charges they prefer against the Republican party are false; unless, indeed, they are as ignorant on the subject as a supporter of Wells, who was heard by the writer, a day or two since, to inquire of a brother democrat, if Wells was sheriff! Can such men deceive an honest people? No; in the clear sunlight of truth they stand revealed to every eye. And never before did men, in open daylight, play such silly tricks.

Ours is the only party loyal to the Constitution and the Union. We do not seek to "prejudice the people against the South," but we do seek to limit that which the greatest and best men of the South have declared to be the curse of earth and the hate of Heaven. The only true friend (politically) which the South has, is the Republican party. This National Stratton South American Fusion party, which has just failed to elect its Speaker, if not an alien, as a bastard, and a pauper at that. If Washington, and Jefferson, and Madison, and Sherman, and Jay, and Franklin, and Pinckney, and Patrick should, to-day, come forth from their half-waved sleep, and proclaim the sentiments which they have left on record, they would be set upon by a pack of "Border Ruffians," backed up by Pierce, Wells & Co., and driven from the honored soil that covers their repose. And yet they go before the people, claiming to be legitimate children of the old Patriots, and heirs of their democracy, and expect the people to believe them. "Fools and blind."

Young Men's Bible Society.—The Thirteenth Anniversary of the Bangor Young Men's Bible Society, will be held at the Central Church to-morrow (Sabbath) evening.

An address will be delivered by Rev. N. E Cornwall, Rector of St. John's (Episcopal) Church; and in connection with the Annual Report, remarks by Rev R. Woodhull, Agent of the American Bible Society.

Exercises to commence at 7 o'clock.

A contribution will be taken at the close, in aid of the objects of the Society.

Safety Lamps. Burning Fluid is a clean, and excellent article for giving light—but at the same time an exceedingly dangerous one, as every day's record of accidents shows. As a safeguard against these accidents DeGunnon's Improved Safety Lamps and Cans are said to be perfect—as not liable to explosion, and not to be broken by any ordinary casualty. They are for sale by Mr. J. S. Ricker, 16 Main Street.

A Large Delegation.—The Democratic State Convention of Mississippi has elected pretty much the whole Democratic party of the State as delegates to the Cincinnati Convention, the total number being 662.

Presidential Making.—Mr. Greeley writes that the next four months are likely to be given up to the business of President-making. He thinks that Pierce has far his best chance of nomination at the Cincinnati Convention—but is of opinion that the choice will depend mainly upon the admission of the New York rival sets of delegates. He adds

"As to the Republican candidate, I have heard the names of Gove, Chase and Seward, Mr. Banks and Col. Fremont suggested in this connection; but none of them in such a manner as to indicate partisanship or personal devotion. Not until after the contest in Kansas, which is soon to open upon us, shall we be ready even to name the man to be supported for President next June."

Penobscot Missionary Association.

The Ninth annual meeting of the Penobscot County Missionary Association will be held at the vestry of the First Parish Church in this city, on Wednesday, Feby. 20th, commencing at 10 o'clock A. M. by a sermon, &c., which the exercises for one hour, after which the reports of the last annual meeting were read and approved.

The Committee to procure a preacher for the annual Sermon, reported that Rev. Stephen Thurston of Searsport, had consented to preach the Sermon, but was prevented by sickness in his family, and that Rev. George B. Little had been obtained as a substitute, and would preach a sermon at the Hammond St. Church at 7 o'clock this evening.

The Treasurer, James Allen, presented his report, accompanied with interesting remarks. Report accepted and placed on file.

Amount of receipts, $210 42

One incident in the report worthy of notice, is the fact that the Rev. John Sawyer, who was at the time over one hundred years old, had contributed to the funds of the Association.—The Secretary suggested, would it not be a pleasant thing for some friend of missions to make Father Sawyer a Life member for $30 will do it.

The following gentlemen were chosen a Committee to nominate a list of Officers for the Association, viz.: Joseph Brown, Holyoke and Oliver Farrington, who subsequently reported the following names, which were unanimously chosen the Officers of the Association:

From Kansas.—A correspondent of the New York Courier & Enquirer, writing from Lawrence, January 27, gives the following account of the position of affairs at that time:

"I wrote you in my last of the renewal of the war. Expresses are continually arriving from different points in Missouri, bringing the intelligence that the 'Border Ruffians' are preparing for another attack. They have organized military companies at every place along the border in Missouri, and hold themselves in readiness to march upon us at any moment. At Kickapoo a gang of Swedes, who infest the Missouri river during the summer season, have collected, organized themselves under the name of Kickapoo Rangers, and hold themselves in readiness at all times to march to any point where their services may be demanded. It is said they are one hundred and fifty strong, are each well mounted and well armed. There cannot be a doubt but they are under the pay of the Platte County Defensive Association, or some similar organization in the slave States. Their time is wholly expended in drinking, gambling, and fighting. It was these men who butchered Mr. R. P. Brown, the particulars of which I gave you in my last letter.

Our people are holding themselves in readiness for an attack at any hour, although I think there is no danger until the weather moderates, and, in fact, I shall not look for it until the first of March. The borderers desire to prevent the assembling of our State Legislature, apprehensive that they can accomplish more before that body convenes than after.

The several fortifications which were hastily thrown up during the late war in this city, have been manned, and sentinels are at each, constantly on duty, keeping guard. There are four of these fortifications, which are circular in form, and are raised about five feet high, with a ditch on the outside."

Cold.—The Buffalo Courier says:

—Yesterday, like its predecessor, was a cold day. Those who were obliged to go out of doors bundled themselves up as best they might, and those who could remain by the fire, considered themselves happy. We never had such severe weather till Mr. Merriam began talking and writing about 'cold cycles,' 'frigid forces,' circumambient circulation of congealed caloric and such like things. The January thaw, that time-honored institution, never failed in its annual return before. Mr. Merriam should be indicted for a nuisance, and abated by order of the proper authorities. What right has he to bring all this misery on the country! Bachelors dead in their beds every morning; babies frozen at the breast; and other domestic tragedies are now of daily occurrence. Everybody is hoping for warm weather."

A New York Ferry Boat Seven Hours in the Ice.—One of the South Ferry boats left the slip at the foot of Atlantic street early Saturday evening, having on board a large number of passengers who had arrived in the Long Island Railroad, and when part way across the river, the boat in endeavoring to run through the ice ran so far on top of a large cake as to be at the mercy of the tide. In this condition the boat with all the passengers floated about most of the time in the vicinity of Governor's Island, for seven hours, when another boat was sent to their relief.

Earthquake. A heavy shock of an earthquake was felt in this vicinity at 8 o'clock on the evening of the 5th inst., and another during the same night. The earthquake of last year occurred at 6 o'clock the morning of the 6th of Feb.—Steubenville Citizen.

Sad Accident. Little daughter of Mr. Harvey Chandler, of this town, aged about 13 years, was burned so severely from her clothes taking fire a few days last week that she died on Sunday evening.—Dexter Gazette.

Senate.—Order of notice on petition of selectmen of Pittsfield.

Resolve providing for repairs on the Mattawamkeag bridge. Referred to Committee on State Lands and State Roads.

The Commissioners to revise the laws of the State, communicated their final report, which, on motion of Mr. Hayden, was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

Read and Assigned.—An act authorizing the construction and maintenance of certain bridges over the Kenduskeag stream in Bangor; to revive the charter of the European and North American Railway; and to incorporate the Foxcroft Manufacturing Company.

House, Communications from the Secretary of State with regard to the land claim of Samuel F. Hersey, was referred to the select committee on the affairs of the Land Office.

Mr. Morrow, from the Committee on the Judiciary, reported a bill to incorporate Royal Arch Corinthian Chapter, which was twice read.

Mr. Britton of Winslow, by leave laid on the table a bill exempting the property of Agricultural and Horticultural Societies from taxation. Referred.

On motion of Mr. Dyer.

Ordered, That the bill for an insolvent law, by Lot M. Morrill and Henry W. Paine, Esqs., appointing commissioners for that purpose, be taken from the files, and referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

Mr. Lancaster of Farmingdale, from Committee on Agriculture, reported a bill creating a Board of Agriculture. Laid on the table, and ordered to be printed.

National Men.—This term is getting to be commonly applied in every question into which any of the considerations of slavery enter. It is always applied to those who take the side of slavery, and one might almost infer from the manner in which it is employed, that the only national institution in all the land was negro slavery. Take the two extremes of Northern and Southern feeling;—the man would destroy the Union to abolish slavery, another would destroy the Union to extend slavery; the first is a "fanatic," the second is a "national man." There existed a compromise by which an agitation was settled that, at one time, threatened the most serious consequences. This compromise was invaded and destroyed. The men who stood by and vainly endeavored to sustain it were "sectional," the men who broke it down were "national men." An attempt is made to force slavery into Kansas, by the armed intervention of men from another State. The Scotsmen who have gone from New England, taken up land, built houses and mills, and fixed their permanent residence in the territory, and who are opposed to slavery, are "intermeddlers;" the Missourians who come over in the morning with rifles and bowie knives, vote themselves, and drive off the men who have a right to vote, or without doing either, break the ballot boxes, are "national men." Atchison, Stringfellow, and Pierce, are "national men," all the Senators and Representatives in Congress from New England, except the four who voted for the Nebraska bill, were sectional men, agitators and fanatics.

If a northern man doubts the right of Congress to legislate slavery into territories whence it has been excluded, if he questions the propriety of employing force even for this object, he is a fanatic, the Southern conventions that declare their intention of breaking up the Union if any restraint is imposed upon the aggressions of slavery, upon freedom, are eminently "national." The only national party, according to this doctrine, is the Democratic party, because this alone is in favor of prostrating every other interest of the country at the feet of slavery.—Prov. Journal.

Mysteries of the Air.—Let a man roll a little air in his mouth, and what is that? Let Napoleon twist it between his lips, and all the world is at war. Give it to Fenelon, and he shall so manage it with his tongue that there shall be everywhere peace. It is but a little agitated air that sets mankind in motion. If we could live without sin, we could not talk, or hear any sounds without sin. There would be a blazing sun in a black sky—sunshine mingled with thick darkness; and there would be an awful silence. There is less air in the upper than in the lower regions of the atmosphere; the bottom crust of air is, of course, densest. Shawsee fired a pistol on the summit of Mount Hiaho, and the report was like the snapping of a stick. There is a well, at Fields three hundred palmes deep; throw a stone down it, and the noise it makes in its descent will be like the firing of a park of cannon. It goes down among the dense air, and also it reverberates. When a man speaks, he strikes air with his throat and mouth as the stone strikes water, and from his tongue as from the stone spread undulating circles with immense rapidity. Those circles may be checked and beaten back in their course, as it is with the waves of a sound made by the stone tumbling down a well, beaten back and furiously multiplied. At the castle of Simonetti, near Milan, one low note of music will beget a concert, for the note is echoed to and fro by the great wings of the building that reflect and multiply a sound just as mirrors reflect and multiply a lighted candle. Sound is, in fact, reflected just as light is, and may be brought quite in the same way to a focus.

A word spoken in the focus of one ellipse will be heard in the focus of an opposite ellipse hundreds of yards away! Such a principle was illustrated oddly in the great church of Agrigentum, Sicily. The architect—perhaps intentionally—built several confessionals of an elliptical form, with corresponding opposite ellipses in which whoever stood, heard all the secrets whispered to the priest. A horrible amount of scandal sprang up in town; nobody's sins were safe from getting into unaccountable publicity. The church soon became such a temple of truth that nothing was left to be hidden in it; but at last, by chance, a discovery was made of the tale-telling statues, and the walls had their ears stopped.

Senator Douglas, according to the Washington correspondents, "condemns the course of the Administration upon Kansas affairs, and charges upon it responsibility for the civil war now impending."

Fresh Davis Vegetable Pain Killer.—Voluntarily, consciously and with much pleasure, we recommend to our readers the above named medicine. We speak from our own observation and experience when we say that it removes pain as if by magic from all parts of the body, and is one of the best medicines in use for checking Diarrhœa, and removing the premonitory symptoms of Cholera. It is applied both internally and externally, with the best effects, and none who have once used the Pain Killer would willingly be without it constantly in their homes.—Cincinnati Evening Gazette.

This certifies that I have for several years used Mr. Davis' Vegetable Pain Killer in my family, in several of those cases for which it is recommended, and find it a very valuable family medicine. A. BRONSON,
Pastor of the Second Baptist Church, Fall River.

Taunton, Mass., 1854.

This certifies that I have used Perry Davis' Vegetable Pain Killer with great success in cases of cholera infantum, cholera, bowel complaint, bruises, coughs, colds, &c., and would cheerfully recommend it as a valuable family medicine. JAMES C. BROOME,
Pastor of the Baptist Church.

The genuine Perry Davis' Pain Killer is now put up in panel boxes, with the above likeness of Perry Davis on the glass, and with two steel engraved labels on the bottle—one an excellent likeness of Perry Davis, the original inventor of the medicine, the other a fac simile of the hand-writing of each of the proprietors. None others can be relied on as genuine. Prices of bottles 12½ cts., 25 cts., 50 cts. and $1 per bottle.

Dr. Hayes: Dear Sir—On the 18th of this month I was taken dangerously ill, with severe pains throughout my whole body, with much fever, and great distress in my head. By advice, I concluded to give your pills a trial. I took three, which afforded me almost instant relief, and I for one can truly say that, without any exception, they are the best medicine I have ever used. I also recommended them to a sick friend, who informs me he has received great benefit from the use, and advises them to all others.

I remain, sir, your obedient servant,
J. B. TRENHOLM.

Coughs and Colds. At this season of the year, when coughs and colds are so prevalent, a reliable remedy in such cases is important to all the afflicted. Of Dr. Stone's medicine, which will be found advertised in our paper, the Montreal Pilot says:

The astonishing demand for W. W. Stone's Cough Medicine, and its complete success in curing affections of the throat and lungs, fully prove that we were justified in recommending it to our readers on its introduction to the public; and we can safely assert that no remedy has ever become so deservedly popular in the same space of time.—[Lowell News.

☞ The old and true maxim that an ounce of preventative is worth a pound of cure, will be fully realized by those who make use of G. W. Stone's Liquid Cathartic and Family Physic, as it cleanses the blood from all impurity, tones the stomach from bile, produces a healthy action of the liver, and positively regulates the bowels; it also removes all local pains, prevents and cures dysentery, diarrhœa, cholera morbus, or cholera, strengthens the whole system, and is perfectly agreeable to the taste.

TELEGRAPHIC

TO THE DAILY WHIG AND COURIER

Gen. Houston's Letter.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.

The Evening Post of to-day contains the letter of Gen. Houston to President Pierce, recently alluded to in the prints.

The General's remarks are chiefly confined to advice touching the formation of the cabinet of the incoming administration, but, the chief point of the letter as at the close is as follows:

"So far as I hear suggestions I conclude that the nation expects an able and faithful administration of the affairs of the government by you—and that a strict adherence to the principles laid down by Gen. Jackson will be the landmarks by which the policy of the nation will be managed by your recommendation and under your guidance.

"So far as my individual opinions and feelings are concerned, I can desire nothing more and hope for nothing less. I will rejoice to see, so far as my situation in the Senate will enable one, an honest patriotic President in quelling the rank abuses which have grown up since Gen. Jackson left office. It will prove a herculean task. Corruption infects the very atmosphere of the Government. But few places are now sought by the tribes who hunt the spoils of office without a view to some speculation or illicit gains; scarcely a contract is made with public functionaries without covering some fraud. Enormous claims are assisted and carried against the government by infamous agencies, employed fraud and bribery as the means.

"I declare to you, sir, that I have found from some examinations I have been called upon to make, a disease at the heart of the government which, unless arrested, must eventually undermine the constitution, and surrender the government to speculators. In Gen. Jackson's time the contest grew out of the attempt of the Bank of the United States to engraft a corrupt monied influence on the government to gain a partial control over its finances. Now the government in all its branches is more corrupt than the bank ever was, and is rapidly verging to that jobbing system which makes the English government a curse to the unhappy millions that live under it. The commanding vote which brought you to the Presidency in such times, marks the confidence of your countrymen in the ability and fearless probity on which they rely for the rehearsal of this downward tendency. A cabinet of irreproachable and unapproachable integrity, if intelligent and industrious, is all your want in such a work—the rest depends upon yourself: relying with full faith on an honest course, you may boldly press on to the extirpation of abuses, and set at defiance dictating leaders of factions or sections if the people will sustain you. The issue is whether honesty or knavery shall triumph in the government. In such a struggle the great point is absolute confidence on the part of the nation in the purity of the man called to high trust in the administration—that you may be fortunate in selecting such associates, and in effecting all the good your country anticipates, is my sincere desire.

"General, I have submitted these as some of my reflections in all frankness and good wishes for you personally and politically. I have done so with more freedom, because no consideration would induce me, if spared, to remain in official position in Washington.

I am truly,
your most obdt. servant,
SAM HOUSTON."

Railroad Collision.

A collision between two freight trains occurred this morning on the New Haven Railroad, between New Rochelle and Mount Vernon.—Both locomotives and several cars were badly smashed and a brakeman had both legs badly crushed. Several others were severely injured. Both engineers saved themselves by jumping from the trains.

Extensive Robbery.

The dry goods store of Mr Smith in Dayton, was robbed last night of $10,000 worth of goods.

Washington Matters.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.

Several of the House Committees organized this morning, including those on Territories and Ways and Means, the latter of which resolved to ask for a permanent clerk.

A railroad passenger car weighing eight tons and drawn by five horses, left Washington today for Alexandria, over the ice of the Potomac river. When last heard from it was more than half way across and moving safely.

Mr. Martin, engineer-in-chief of the Navy, left Washington this afternoon for Boston, to go on board the Merrimac on her trial trip to Norfolk. In this is the first finishes of the six National steamers, the government is much interested in her success.

There are many boxed daily recorded at the Court of Claims. Among those presented today is one involving claims to the extent of $142,000, for alleged breach of a government contract in 1852.

The contract for repairing the machinery of the steamer Mississippi, a $30,000 or $40,000 job, was awarded by the Navy Department today, but the name of the successful bidder has not been divulged.

Public Execution.

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., Feb. 15.

Jacob Armbruster convicted of the murder of his wife, was hung at this place to day within the walls of the jail. He made some remarks on the scaffold denying that he was guilty of the crime for which he was to suffer, and declaring that the trial was conducted by prejudiced counsel and perjured witnesses. He continued to protest his innocence to the last. His dying words were "I want no Judge but God."

DEATH BY SUICIDE.—A correspondent at Farmington, states that on Saturday the town was thrown into a state of excitement, by suicide of a man named Jedediah Wentworth—Mr. Wentworth had been in feeble health for some years past, but was improving. On the day case was reported by the board study. On Saturday evening, he went into the bar room of the Stoddard House, and after accosting some acquaintances who were sitting there, went out to the piazza, and putting his left arm around one of the pillars, with his right plunged a stiletto to his heart. He then returned to the bar-room and said, "Gentlemen I have killed myself, its all right," and immediately sunk to the floor and expired. He was about 28 years of age.—Oxford Democrat.

Holloway's Pills, a certain Cure for Determination of Blood to the Head. Ellen Hope, one of the most celebrated advocates of temperance in the Union, admits that he suffered more than any one in every form from determination of blood to the head, although he was more abstemious, both in eating and drinking, than is the rule; yet he was as bad at times, that in the middle of his most eloquent discourse, to be heard, compelled to turn off and dressing his auditors, and on several occasions has been carried away from meeting completely unconscious. Having seen the good effects of Holloway's Pills, he was induced to give them a trial, and in less than one week's time relieved him like magic. In fourteen months after he commenced taking the celebrated medicines, which completely cured him in two months, and he has enjoyed perfect health ever since. DYSPEPSIA CAN BE CURED.

From R. R. Stone, Esq., Assistant Clerk U. S. House of Representatives.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25.

Dr. Geo. B. Green—Dear Sir: I feel it a pleasure to make known to you and the public, the astonishing effect of the Oxygenated Bitters in relieving me from a long and distressing disorder, Dyspepsia. I have been afflicted for about seventeen years with the most attendant symptoms, viz: constipation of the bowels, headache in the chest, faintness, acidity of the stomach, and severe nausea; and most of the time I was extremely bilious. I have used various remedies, have been quite to my diet, but all to no good purpose. Hearing of the Oxygenated Bitters, I procured some; have used two bottles, and find the bad symptoms all removed, and myself once more in the enjoyment of health. None but the Dyspeptic sufferer who has felt all the horrors of this disease, can fully appreciate the value of the medicine. Respectfully yours,

R. R. STONE.

DAGUERREOTYPES can be accurately copied by the new Photographic process, enlarged to any required size, and beautifully colored in Oil, Water, or Pastel. Portraits are obtained from the life by this process, requiring no longer sitting than for a common daguerreotype, thus avoiding the serious inconvenience and fatigue of long sittings. Glass daguerreotypes, a new article of unsurpassed richness and durability, are now, for the first time in Bangor, offered to the public. Their great brilliancy and permanency renders them especially suitable for Pins Rings, &c. KENNEDY'S
MEDICAL DISCOVERY

The Greatest of the Age!
DR KENNEDY, of Roxbury has discovered in one of our common pasture weeds a remedy that cures LIVER COMPLAINT, from the worst to ordinary down to a common pimple He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases and never failed except in two cases. He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value all within two miles of Boston

Two bottles are warranted to cure a running sore mouth

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face

Two to three bottles will cure the worst case of bilers

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the mouth and throat

Three to five bottles are warranted to cure the worst cases of erysipelas.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humors in the eyes

Two bottles are warranted to cure ringing in the ears and blindness in the head

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure ruptured and running ulcers

One bottle will cure scaly eruptions of the skin.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of tape worm

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism

Three to six bottles are warranted to cure salt rheum

Five to eight bottles will cure the very worst case of Scrofula

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle and a perfect cure warranted when the above quantity is taken

Nothing look so improbable to those who have in vain tried all the wonderful medicines of the day as, that a common weed growing upon the pastures, and along old stone walls should cure every humor in the system? yet it is now a fixed fact. There are no if nors about it in curing some cases but not your Dr has pedd ed over a thousand bott es of the Amount to Boston and knows the effects of it in every case Ethan already done some of the greatest cures ever done in Massachusetts He gives it to children a year old, to old people of 80 and has seen puny looking children, whose flesh was white and flabby, restored to a perfect state of health by one bottle

To those who are subject to sick headache, one bottle will in no case fail It gives great relief in catarrh and dizziness It seldom fails to relieve easy but where there is any derangement of the functions of nature, it will cause very singular feelings, but you must not be alarmed—they always disappear in from four days to a week—There is never a bad result from it—on the contrary when that feeling is gone you will feel yourself like a new person I heard some of the most extravagant encomiums of it at every man I listened to

No change of diet or exposure necessary Eat the best you can get and enough of it.

ROXBURY, Sept 20, 1853

This is to certify that E H HAY, Druggist, Portland is the duly AUTHORISED GENERAL AGENT for my MEDICAL DISCOVERY for the STATE OF MAINE, and that he is supplied with the GENUINE direct from my Laboratory
